

Registration Type and Document Verification Overview

How are you applying for registration?	What type of registration are you applying for?	Document(s) you will need to have verified by ECFMG
Taking the PLAB test	Provisional registration or full registration	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> Primary medical qualification
Holding an acceptable postgraduate qualification (PGQ)	Full registration	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> Primary medical qualification Acceptable PGQ
With an offer from an approved sponsor	Full registration	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> Primary medical qualification
For full registration and entry onto the Specialist or GP register via the Portfolio pathway	Full registration with specialist/GP	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> Primary medical qualification
Entry onto the Specialist or GP via the Portfolio pathway	Specialist/GP	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> Primary medical qualification Note – if your primary medical qualification was verified when you first gained registration, you don't need to have it verified again
Holding a recognised specialist qualification	Full registration with specialist/GP	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> Primary medical qualification Specialist/GP qualification
Holding a recognised specialist qualification	Specialist/GP registration	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> Primary medical qualification* Specialist or GP qualification *Note — if your primary medical qualification was verified when you first gained registration, you don't need to have it verified again

How are you applying for registration?	What type of registration are you applying for?	Document(s) you will need to have verified by ECFMG
Holding a ' relevant European qualification '	Provisional registration or full registration	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Primary medical qualification • Accompanying certificate (if applicable)
	Full registration with specialist/GP	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Primary medical qualification • Accompanying certificate (if applicable) • Specialist or GP qualification
	Specialist or GP	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Primary medical qualification • Accompanying certificate (if applicable) • Specialist or GP qualification Note – if your primary medical qualification and accompanying certificate were verified when you first gained registration, you don't need to have them verified again.

Last Updated September 11, 2024